Funding Your Fire Safety Educational Program

Kristin Tucker Tinney

Managing Director of Every Bear Goes Home

What Are the Financial Goals of Your Program?

- What do you need money for?
- How much money do you need?
- Will you have employees?
- Will you need a constant budget or starter money?
- How big or small do you want this program to be?

Identify Community Stakeholders

- Who will your program be aimed at?
- Are their potential stakeholders and supporters on your campus?
- Who else will want your program to succeed?
- Are they public or private stakeholders and will they also benefit from your program?
- How about some off campus stakeholders?
le: local businesses, local law enforcement and fire/ems

Create Sustainable Partnerships

- Campus and university partnerships are important.
- Local first responder partnerships can prove very beneficial.
- Create partnerships with entities that believe in your program and message of safety for your community and students.
